

ADVICE FOR MEDICINE INCOMING STUDENTS

Dear Students,

regard to "tirocini" all of you must submit these two documents from your university to do clinical practice at policlinico.

1. medical certification on their state of health and on vaccinations

the certification of wellness regards your "medical history" in order to clarify if there is someone with previous pathologies that can compromise the health of patients in hospital during your clinical practice.

Moreover, there are some vaccinations that are mandatory for us if you have contact with patients. For this reason, in order to avoid any risks for patients, we recommend that you show us your vaccinations booklet (e.g. hepatitis or exanthemata's diseases vaccination...), according to your country's vaccination guidelines.

2. certificate of attendance in Workplace Safety Courses according to the legal systems of the respective countries of origin.

in Italy it is mandatory to have a certification that demonstrates your knowledge relative to the safety measures in workplaces and in particular hospitals (I mean for the safety of patients).

This certification depends on the country legislation and we accept, as Erasmus students, also certifications from your country.

If you attended clinical practice in your country, it is possible that your university can give us this document and certify what we need.

On the contrary, we will train you and we will communicate the date and modality of the course.
